Determination of Patent Term Adjustment under 35 U.S.C. 154 (b) (application filed on or after May 29, 2000)

The patent term adjustment to date is 272 days. If the issue fee is paid on the date that is three months after the mailing date of this notice and the patent issues on the Tuesday before the date that is 28 weeks (six and a half months) after the mailing date of this notice, the term adjustment will be 272 days.

If a continued prosecution application (CPA) was filed in the above-identified application, the filing date that determines patent term adjustment is the filing date of the most recent CPA.

Applicant will be able to obtain more detailed information by accessing the Patent Application Information Retrieval (PAIR) system. (<http://pair.uspto.gov>)

Notice of Fee Increase on January 1, 2003

If a reply to a "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" is filed in the Office on or after January 1, 2003, then the amount due will be higher than that set forth in the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" since there will be an increase in fees effective on January 1, 2003. See Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees for Fiscal Year 2003; Final Rule, 67 Fed. Reg. 70847, 70849 (November 27, 2002).

The current fee schedule is accessible from: <http://www.uspto.gov/main/howtofees.htm>.

If the issue fee paid is the amount shown on the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due," but not the correct amount in view of the fee increase, a "Notice to Pay Balance of Issue Fee" will be mailed to applicant. In order to avoid processing delays associated with mailing of a "Notice to Pay Balance of Issue Fee," if the response to the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) due form is to be filed on or after January 1, 2003 (or mailed with a certificate of mailing on or after January 1, 2003), the issue fee paid should be the fee that is required at the time the fee is paid. If the issue fee was previously paid, and the response to the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" includes a request to apply a previously-paid issue fee to the issue fee now due, then the difference between the issue fee amount at the time the response is filed and the previously paid issue fee should be paid. See Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, Section 1308.01 (Eighth Edition, August 2001).

Questions relating to issue and publication fee payments should be directed to the Customer Service Center of the Office of Patent Publication at (703) 305-8283.

DETAILED ACTION

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Susan Heminger on June 11, 2003.

The application has been amended as follows: Please cancel Claims 12-24 of the instant application. In Claim 3 (page 10, line 25) of the instant application, there is a spelling error. Please replace "dionized" with "deionized".

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-11 are allowed. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art or record fails to teach or fairly suggest flexible substrates that comprise a plurality of openings wherein an anode or cathode electrode is disposed between the flexible substrate and a porous catalytic layer. Furthermore, the prior art or record fails to teach or fairly suggest a fuel side flexible circuit that is disposed in parallel with an air/water side flexible circuit.

Art Unit: 1746

The instant invention is deemed to be an unobvious modification over the inventions patented in publications: US '099 to Hockaday, who discloses a compact, surface replica fuel cell that has a fiber reinforced porous central membranes and two porous outer membranes wherein a catalyst layer and a metal film layer are deposited on both sides of the central membrane. Hockaday goes on to teach that the electrodes are positioned on each side of the membrane in the fuel cell and that each electrode comprises a catalyst layer and a thin metal film layer wherein the catalyst layer and the metal film layer are provided with pores to allow for fuel distribution. Hockaday fails to teach or fairly suggest, however, a second flexible substrate that is disposed in parallel with a first flexible substrate. US '145 to Todd et al., who teach a method of attaching flexible plastic films having electronic circuitry placed thereon wherein a dry film adhesive is employed. Todd et al. fail to teach or fairly suggest, however, flexible substrates that comprise a plurality of openings wherein an anode or cathode electrode is disposed between the flexible substrate and a porous catalytic layer. Furthermore, Todd et al. fail to teach or fairly suggest a fuel side flexible circuit that is disposed in parallel with an air/water side flexible circuit. US '935 to Ketcham et al., who teach flexible inorganic electrolyte designs wherein an anode/electrolyte/cathode assembly is disposed on a ceramic sheet. Ketcham et al. fail to teach or suggest, however, flexible substrates that comprise a plurality of openings wherein an anode or cathode electrode is disposed between the flexible substrate and a porous catalytic layer. Furthermore, the prior art or record fails to teach or fairly suggest a fuel side flexible circuit that is disposed in parallel with an air/water side flexible circuit. US '887 to Yamazaki et al., who teach a semiconductor device having circuits structured with thin film transistors disposed on a flexible substrates. Yamazaki et al. fail to teach or suggest, however, flexible substrates that comprise a plurality of openings wherein an anode or cathode electrode is disposed between the flexible substrate and a porous catalytic layer.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
